Auto Top Up Configuration

You can set the level at which your credit will be topped up automatically using the drop down menus below. We recommend that you set the trigger amount to about 10% of your top-up amount and adjust it as you get used to your calling habits.

If your telephone usage has increased, you should consider also increasing your regular top-up amount. This will reduce the number of transactions on your card and invoices on your account and also reduce the risk of running out of calling credit.

To do this, just choose a new payment amount from the dropdown menu below. The new amount will be taken from your card on its next auto top-up.
